Charlie Kunz is proud of two things these days: he's kept together a group of Cameron dancers until they are good enough to be invited to a National Square Dance Convention to dance a medley of German folk numbers before about 13,000 people standing room only at a Hermis-Fair amphitheatre.

That happened June 29 in San Antonio he reports. And indeed the German Folk Dancers, long billed "Famous" are famous. The full 16-member compliment appeared before this convention as the only ethnic dance group other than a Spanish group. And that's not unusual in Latin-impacted San Antonio.

The other thing is Charlie is taking up tennis, along with a lot of people finding the instruction good at Yoe Courts. He'll find instruction there equally competent to the work of the Cameron German Folk Dancers.

The group also danced before a smaller gathering of about 200 during the convention, which Charlie says had international overtones with some Japanese there dancing among the thousands of square dancers. Invitation for the Cameron group to dance came through the Texas Folklife Festival hierarchy, Charlie noted, where the German dancers will appear in September.

I was paying a bill the other day in a local store. There was a bit of cleverness, I guess, that only a lawyer would understand.

Board Votes Yoe Field In, Keeps House

Trustees of Cameron School Board Monday night voted twice, but kept the Smith property and voted 4-1-1 to restore the former football field name.

In a long monthly meeting, the board also approved five teacher resignations and hired nine, one returning from a leave of absence.

Board also approved a routine 1974-75 band budget for Jerry Bartley, figures which were not available at the board meeting, officials said.

The vote carried to restore Yoe Athletic Field to the football stadium on Yoe Campus. In the June meeting, the board had voted to name the field after L. Van Perkins, a coach in the system back in the 1920s.

But two votes failed to determine the disposition, if any, of the Smith property, on East Jackson and Tenth Street, which was willed to the school by Oxsheer Smith, Cameron banker, who recently died.

Coleman Duncum, school board president when the Smith property was deeded to CISD through life estate proceedings, told the intentions of the bequest at the time. It was suggested the property and house be used for an administrative building.

Recently, the property was considered for sale, along with the school-owned superintendent's house.

Monday night, the board voted 5-2 against keeping the Smith property and superintendent's home. And in a second motion voted 4-3 against selling the Smith property.

The board hired nine teachers: Linda Stout, Linda Clark, Raynette Green, Reg Knight, David Johnson, Mary Arthur (back from leave of absence), Janet Knight, Ann Baskin Fuller, Sharon Ethridge.

The board also named Supt. Dulin authorized lunchroom representative.

--Joined CISD with Region VI Education Service Center.

--Employed the accounting firm of Rix, Estes and Kolander to audit the 1973-74 books.

--Voted a $100 monthly salary increase to Theo F. Aschenbeck, CISD assessor-collector, and $50 monthly increase to Mrs. Sherriann Hobbs, tax office assistant.

--Approved D. R. Dodson's request to buy some used school lumber.

GOING UP

The new Milam Jail is taking shape in contrast to the old brick structure in the rear at the west side of Milam Courthouse in downtown Cameron.

COMING DOWN

The last cotton gin in Cameron is being dismantled. It was formerly operating until a year ago. As recent as 15 years ago, five gins operated in Cameron. Most Milam area gins now are operated in the vicinity of heavy cotton production.

Chamber Conducts Slogan Contest For City Use

A new slogan for a new Cameron is the theme for a contest being conducted by the ladies committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce.

Prizes totalling more than $100 will be awarded to the person who submits the winning slogan entry. These prizes are being donated by 15 Cameron businesses.

Official entry blanks may be obtained from the businesses or at the Chamber office.

Rules for entering the contest are simple: Entrants must be 14 years of age or over and must reside in the Cameron Trade Territory, entries must be postmarked no later than September 15, 1975, and members of the slogan committee, contest judges and their immediate families are not eligible to enter. Judging of each entry will be based on the slogan's ability to capture the image of Cameron as an ideal place to live, work and trade and on its originality and simplicity.

All entries should be mailed to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, P. O. Drawer 432, Cameron, Texas. Members of the Slogan Contest Committee are: Mrs. L. W. Turner, Jr., Mrs. Charles McGregor, and Mrs. Neil Barr.

Blanks are available at Mamie Hefley Insurance, Ben Milam Savings and Loan, Barr's Texaco, Wright's Montgomery Ward, L&M Jewelers, Hefley-Stedman Motors, Ben Franklin Variety, Culpepper's, Precision Auto Grinding, Mack's Oil Co., Horstmann's, J. The Herald erroneously credited a front page photograph of Milam County's jail cornerstone to Bob Schiller. The photograph was taken by Larry Schiller, professional photographer presently living in Memphis Tennessee, and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Schiller Jr. of Cameron.

The cornerstone photograph as well as others of the 1890's jail and landmark buildings around Cameron, are part of a collection of Schiller's work now on display at Schiller's Drug Store.

Soviet Police Control Emigration In Russia

By Vincent Buist

MOSCOW

Reuter -- Security police roundups of Jewish activists here before President Nixon's summit visit to Moscow suggested that police action is still being used as a substitute for an emigration policy.

If the Soviet Union is on the way to devising a policy for handling Jewish emigration there is little evidence of it in Moscow -- except to say "No" to scientists and others who might constitute a brain drain on security risk.

This is not totally surprising in a country which does not normally permit emigration, except on grounds of political expediency, and where Jewish emigration on any scale only dates from three or four years ago.

Nevertheless the existence of the state of Israel, an influential Jewish lobby in the United States, Western protest groups and a militant group of Jews in the Soviet Union campaigning to leave constitute a problem which will not go away.

But at the moment, decisions in individual Jewish cases appear to be taken arbitrarily, by different people at different levels -- and sometimes western pressure seems to help while at other times it achieves little or nothing.

The Soviet Union's only major emigration problem concerns Jews and this has only emerged in any size since about 1970-71 when the Soviet leadership apparently reached a secret decision to open up the floodgates.

It is still not clear to observers in Moscow whether this Kremlin decision hinged solely upon the wish to improve relations with Washington, or reflected a new general attitude here linked to Jewish exploits in the victorious six-day war of 1967.

Emigration does not concern Russians or any of the other Republic or minorities in the Soviet Union, except a trickle of Soviet citizens claim-

City To View Replacement

Cameron City Councilmen will meet in special session 5:30 p.m. Thursday to consider a replacement for councilman Starrett Hickman who resigned in regular council session last week.

Mayor Gene Blake told the Council he would have recommendation for a successor to fill the vacancy, a one-year unexpired term.

Hickman had served six terms, 11 years, and had been mayor pro tem a couple of terms. He is a grocer.

Hickman gave health reasons for submitting his resignation.

The Council last week voted to accept Hickman's resignation, which took immediate effect, with regret.

Council Thursday will also consider resetting the regular July 15 meeting to 7 p.m. July 25 to coincide with a joint meeting of the Community Development Agency.

Former Chemist-Photog Pastoring At Battetown

Rev. Henry M. Weston is the newly elected pastor of Battetown Baptist Church, Cameron.

Rev. Weston is a graduate of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth and holds a B.S. degree in chemistry from Florida Southern College in Lakeland, Fla., and a diploma in professional photography from the New York Institute of Photography in New York City. He has studied at Boston College, Texas Christian University, and the University of Miami.

Prior to entering the ministry, Rev. Weston was a research chemist for 16 years with Reynolds Metals Co. in Richmond, Va. and Sheffield, Ala. He was a member of the American Chemical Society, American Society for Testing Materials, and Toastmasters International. He is currently listed in "American Men of Science."

During World War II, he served with the U. S. Navy for two years in the South Pacific.

While attending divinity school, Rev. Weston was the Seminary's photographer. He also worked part time as research assistant for a chemical company in Fort Worth. For the past two years, he has established mission work at an apartment complex in

Attic Burns At Funeral Home

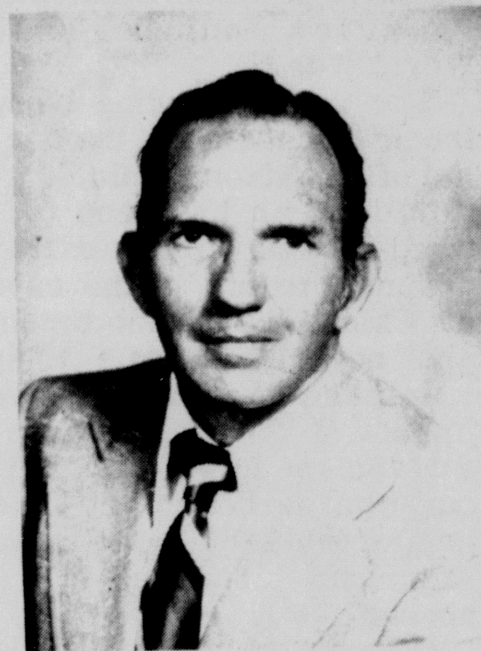

A fire in the attic ceiling 10:30 p.m. Monday night brought smoke and water damage to Green's Funeral Home, Fourth and Houston.

A spokesman said smoke and water damage was extensive through the funeral home, except the funeral chapel in a fire that was extinguished by Cameron firemen in about an hour.

Fort Worth, and worked in photography in Texas and Oklahoma.

His wife, Jean, is presently employed as a medical records typist for St. Joseph Hospital in Fort Worth. She will move to Cameron soon.

The Westons have two children. Their son, Marc, age 20, is a Junior at Rice University in Houston, majoring in biochemical engineering and psychology. Their daughter, Kathy, age 18, will enter college this fall.

Rev. Henry M. Weston

Offices are temporarily moved to Mrs. Carol Green's residence next door, 302 North Houston.

Wiring was believed cause of the fire which burned the attic ceiling. Rewiring is now underway in the house.

No one was injured. No estimate was available on amount of damage.

The most notable soviet dissenter in Moscow these days is Dr. Andrei Sakharov, one of the country's leading physicists and a state prizewinner. He has said he will only accept documents permitting him to travel in the West provided he can be sure of return to the Soviet Union.

Another famous figure, the Nobel prizewinning author Alexander Solzhenitsyn, who campaigned for literary freedom as well as religious and social relaxations, was banished from the Soviet Union -- against his own wish to stay here and go on fighting.

The roundup of Jewish activists here in the week before President Nixon's arrival involved a number of scientists who had applied to leave the Soviet Union but had been barred from going.

Since the White House party was to be accompanied by hundreds of press and television reporters, the Kremlin clearly did not want attention diverted from international topics

Look A Little Harder...

If ever the summer blahs set in, it is usually after the Fourth of July and just before school starts.

Cameron and Rockdale had centennial and Folk Fete celebrations in June to keep things humming after schools closed for the summer.

Now the mid-point is past. And activities like tennis, swimming, vacation travel, sunbathing and the like are taken up in serious vein, as if a suntan were more important than anything. And for the time of year, maybe it is.

Expert tennis instruction is available for the rest of the summer in Cameron and swimming lessons are available at local pools. Local movies are on up grade too.

Baseball in minor and Little League, pony leagues will continue a couple more weeks at both Cameron fields.

A lot of fun things are possible in Cameron and this area this summer. You may have to look a little harder in the glare to see how much fun things around here can be.

But it is a case of how you look at the heat, the time in the sun and what you want to make of it.

What Others Say . . .

America Can't Opt Out

Isolationism on the increase, internationalism on the decrease. That is the burden of a recently disclosed survey this year compared to previous studies of American attitudes since World War II.

The inward-looking trend ironically matches the period of the Nixon administration, which has been outward-looking to an extraordinary extent in the case of China, the Soviet Union, and now the Middle East. Was the crushing, divisive impact of the Vietnam war sufficient to start a tendour-own-garden movement unswervable by subsequent American initiatives abroad?

It would be sad if this is true. For the widespread discrediting of America's massive involvement in Vietnam did not discredit the original motives of those American's who saw their country as trying to fulfill a responsibility to international commitments and the cause of freedom.

Vietnam should have taught America how to be wiser in defining and carrying out its international responsibilities. But such responsibilities can never be abandoned by one of the world's great powers.

Despite what the survey shows about a retreat from internationalism, Americans seem to have been overwhelmingly supportive of Secretary Kissinger's efforts at even handed peace-making in the Middle East. There are a whole range of other issues, from dire food needs to arms control, where isolationism would be tragic folly. Even in selfish -- or "enlightened selfinterest" -- terms, a flourishing America depends on the world around it. It cannot withdraw to the shade of the old apple tree no matter what the polls say.

City Without Cigarettes?

Members of the city council in a midwestern community became so worried about the cigarette problem that they decided to "go all the way." They passed an ordinance forbidding the smoking of cigarettes anywhere, any time, within the city limits.

In short order, a man was arrested for smoking on a downtown sidewalk. But instead of paying the fine, he chose to make a test case out of it. And after due deliberation, the court ruled that the ordinance was unconstitutional -- "an unreasonable interference with the private rights of the citizen."

The decision illustrates that even in the field of public health, there are limits to the power of government. Nevertheless, more moderate regulation of cigarette smoking has been upheld repeatedly.

Thus, another court sustained a city ordinance against smoking in street cars. Finding this a reasonable approach to the cigarette problem, the court commented: "Smoking is agreeable to those who have the habit. But it is distasteful, and sometimes hurtful, to those compelled to breathe the atmosphere impregnated with tobacco in close and confined places."

What about the regulation of cigarette vending machines? A city ordinance sought to ban all such machines from public places. A vending company promptly challenged the ordinance in court, arguing that it was aimed at the "lawful business" of selling cigarettes.

But the city replied that its purpose was simply to prevent the sale of cigarettes to minors. This was a matter of legitimate public concern, said the court, upholding the ordinance.

"The automatic vendor," the court pointed out, "must sell to any and all who insert coins. It has no powers of discrimination. Hence it is condemned."

Delegates Approve New Revenues

AUSTIN, Tex. — Constitutional Convention delegates approved a new approach to state revenue raising and sent delegates' hopes rising for a painless tax source.

The Convention authorized the legislature to levy a petroleum products manufacturing tax that will not (like three-fourths of gasoline taxes) go into highway building.

Sen. D. Roy Harrington of Port Arthur already is preparing for introduction next year a bill to impose a two cents per gallon gasoline tax at the refinery level.

At the same time, Harrington will propose reduction of the gasoline tax at the pump from five to three cents a gallon if the new constitution is approved.

Since 75 per cent of Texas-refined gasoline is sold out of state, proponents of the tax claim the two cent levy would raise $686 million in additional revenue without increasing the burden on Texans.

Although such a tax probably could be levied now, most of the money would go to highways instead of general revenue.

The convention went into its windup stages this week. Delegates began voting on the entire revision package, including proposed separate submissions of five alternative propositions.

When and if a two-thirds majority is mustered, the document and the "side issues" will go to the voters in the November general election.

HEATLY CUT OFF — The Constitutional Convention Compensation Committee are needed.

Three bids exceeded $1 million. One was for $9 million by Transocean Oil Incorporated of Houston — for 25 tracts, most of them in the Gulf of Mexico.

TEXANS PLEDGE $508,000 — Texas Democrats committed themselves to a record total of $508,000 during the June 29-30 party fund-raising served notice it didn't intend to allow Rep. W.S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah to charter airplanes at state expense. Convention officers said they won't approve any more such charges.

However, Healy indicated he won't take that without a fight. He produced an attorney general's ruling saying renting of aircraft by state employees on official trips is authorized, and called on officials to consider his bills legal.

Healy blamed his troubles on a "personal vendetta" against him by Convention President Price Daniel Jr. and Executive Director Jim Ray — which Daniel promptly denied.

A check of House records showed Healy, as of May 31, ranked 24th among state representative-convention delegates in total spending since last January.

NEAR RECORD PAID — Oil companies paid a near record $24.6 million in bonus payments for oil and gas leases on Texas public lands at the third largest oil and gas lease sale in history.

Bids were received for more than 336,037 acres and brought the permanent school fund to more than $1,074,743,900.

Texas will receive a substantially higher royalty for oil and gas produced from the state lands under new terms in effect for the sale. All royalties will be at least one-fifth. The state may also take its royalty "in kind" — which assures top prices for the state's portion of oil and gas and ability to sell the resources in areas where they telethon.

Two-thirds of the take — enough to pay off debts and last a few months into the future — will be retained by the state party after deductions for overhead of the telethon.

More than 1,000 volunteers manned 350 telephones.

More than 3,000 pledges were received in Texas.

LIQUOR AGENTS CLEARED — An investigation by Atty. Gen. John Hill's staff found no evidence of mileage expense account padding by Dallas district office Alcoholic Beverage Commission inspectors.

Hill did recommend better record keeping procedures in the office to "remove suspicions and concerns."

He found irregularities in the manner in which the records are maintained and said that inspection tickets were in "a state of disarray."

AG OPINIONS — States and subdivisions are required to include equal employment opportunity clauses in federally-assisted construction contracts exceeding $10,000, Attorney General Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

• County Commissioners may expend county funds for service pins to reward county employees, and pins may include a replica of an unofficial county seal.

• An act extending workmen's compensation benefits to employees of political subdivisions is constitutional and applies to housing authorities. A Texas Municipal League and Texas Association of School Boards plan for self-insurance would not be subject to State Board of Insurance regulation.

APPOINTMENTS — Governor Briscoe appointed Natt Burke Holman of Houston to the Texas Water Rights Commission, effective July 15.

Larry Combest is Sen. John Tower's Austin office aide for agricultural matters.

Robert Hardesty of Austin will serve as a member-at-large to the 1974 delegate assembly of National Urban League which will meet in San Francisco July 31.

COURTS SPEAK — Attorney General Hill is seeking to file with the U.S. Supreme Court a complaint that New Mexico is failing to deliver adequate waters on the Pecos River to Texas as required by the Pecos River Compact.

Appeal of two Bay City boys from a 10 year sentence for statutory rape of a 15-year-old girl was turned down again by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

A Harris County district judge ordered Atlantic Richfield Co. to pay $50,000 in penalties in a Pasadena water pollution case.

SHORT SNORTS

The American Party has petitioned for a place on the November general election ballot and promised an active campaign.

New oil and gas well completions are running ahead of 1973.

The chairman of the House elections committee, Rep. Ed Harris of Galveston, called on Secretary of State Mark White Jr. to purge unqualified persons from voter registration lists.

Texas Department of Agriculture has inaugurated a program to honor farmers and ranchers whose families have lived on and worked the same land for a century.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission heard conflicting arguments as to whether it should halt or increase shell dredging operations in San Antonio Bay.

OLD

Dear editor:

Because economists are too busy trying to decide whether or not we're in a recession -- as I figure it, economists are two lengths behind doctors; doctors can recognize when a man has a bad cold, they just can't cure it, where as economists not only can't cure a recession, they can't even agree on whether we're got one -- at any rate because they're so busy they've overlooked a couple of vital things about the economy.

I noticed them just yesterday. They are: interest rates are now equal to the inflation rate.

That's right. Inflation is now pegged at 12 percent a year and big city bank interest rates are now at 12 per cent.

I don't know how the economists missed this, but I have been figuring, if the two keep abreast of each other for a few more years, they will of course reach 100 per cent.

All right, say you need to borrow $1,000. You borrow it at one window and then if you're smart you'll race to another window and pay it back before the interest eats you up.

That takes care of 100 per cent interest rates, but about how to handle inflation. I'm not very clear. The trouble is, not everybody believes in inflation.

You take a rancher. He goes into a cafe and the waitress tells him coffee has gone up to 20 cents a cup on account of inflation and he believes her. He hands over 20 cents. But when he takes some steers to market and says they're worth 40 cents a pound, nobody believes him.

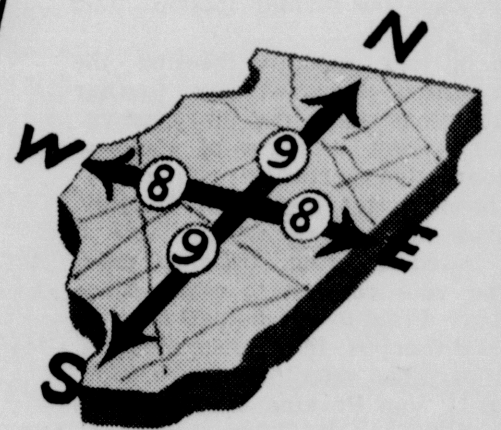

When one part of the population believes in inflation and another part doesn't, you have got a complex situation on your hands.

It seems to me the rate of inflation ought to be set by Congress and it ought to be made to apply to everybody. How long could the game of football last with one end of the ball inflated and the other end flat?

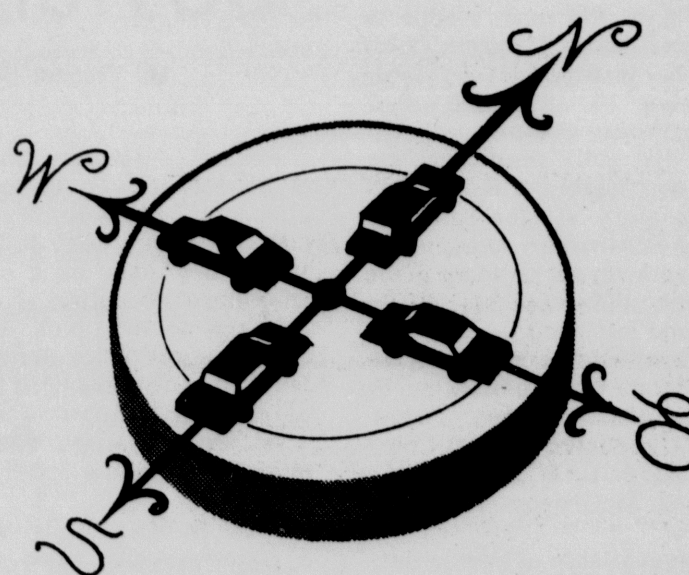

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

COUPON EXPIRES JULY 13.

By Bill McCutchen

A&M FIELD DAY

The second annual A&M Plantation Field Day will be held Thursday July 11th with tours beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Among tour highlights will be crossbred, beef cattle, cotton and sorghum research programs, forage and small grain varieties, weed control research and a remote sensing project.

Forage research will highlight new bermudagrass hybrids, Kleingrass and buffelgrass.

Super sorghums are on the horizon, and these along with exotic sorghums from Asia and Africa show a lot of promise and will be discussed on the tour.

Following the field tours and a barbecue, a special program will be presented on how order buyers select stocker cattle.

Milam County producers are invited to attend. I would invite producers to ride with me, but I have to be at A&M by 9:45 a.m. to help plan and set up the Field Day.

COTTON SUPPLIES LIGHT

An A&M economist says that the 1974 cotton crop looks smaller than earlier predicted and this may mean higher supplies and possibly higher cotton prices.

Carryover by August 1, is expected to be down to 3.4 million bales, the second lowest in the past 22 years. This year's crop is not expected to surpass the 14 million bale mark, compared to earlier reports of a 16 million-bale crop.

GRAIN SORGHUM HARVEST

were trying to rush the grain sorghum harvest this year with some sorghum harvested the last of June and many combining "hot-spots" the first few days of July.

Sorghum fields all over the county were burning from dry weather and scorching temperatures and farmers are afraid their crop may fall before it is dry enough to harvest.

Another incentive to an early harvest is the rising grain sorghum prices, with $4.00 per hundredweight being offered in Cameron as of July 5th.

The grain sorghum crop looks pretty good even though most producers didn't get that last rain that was needed. The crop won't reach the per acre yields that were achieved in 1973 which was the best in recent years, but should about equal the 1972 crop which was a good one.

If the grain sorghum price stays at the $4.00 level there probably won't be a lot of on-the-farm storage. If you do decide to store grain sorghum it should be protected from insects.

The first step should be to clean bins and spray with 2.5 percent premium grade Malathion. This spray mixture can be prepared by using one-third pint of 57 percent premium grade malathion emulsifiable concentrate per gallon of water.

The new incoming grain may also be treated by spraying the grain as the bin is filled. Mix one pint of 57 percent premium-grade Malathion with 2 to 5 gallons of water to treat 1,000 bushels of grain.

Everyone in a while a choice story comes along that doesn't have a lot of beneficial meat in it but its worth repeating. It seems that a rancher over in limestone county is raising three fine boys.

Now these boys work. They have to work because Papa and Mama both really get with it. They don't know anything except work. Now these boys are all American type old boys that like it rough, like it straight and on a Saturday they like a good night on the nearest town.

Last Christmas these boys got together and bought Papa a Christmas present. Being very practical they went down to the local feed store and bought him a number X-200 super premium battery powered stock prod. Stick one of those things to an old cow and she'll get a dose of REA and really move.

Christmas morning arrived and they opened presents and Papa was real proud of his boys and their present to him. Mama fixed a big dinner. Now Papa made his family go to church every Sunday. They all sat together and they sang and they prayed. They really got with it whether they left like the Lord was with them or not.

Now that Sunday with the Christmas table loaded he proceeded to ask the Blessing. He started out by asking the Lord to bless the food, bless all the sick folks, bless all the folks that did not have a family and did not have food. He was getting his second wind in that prayer about then and these boys stomachs were growling. He started then asking the Lord to Bless the Nation and all the Red Mouth Politicians, commonly known as leaders, he asked the Lord to Bless all the Nations.

About that time the youngest and the meanest boy looked down on the floor and there was that brand new X-200 stock prod. He slipped his hand down and picked it up. He fondled it a moment and promptly stuck it to his older brothers leg and it in gear. The older brother shouted as loud as he could jumped up turning over the Christmas table loaded with food and grabbed his little brother saying "You little devil!"

Papa was shocked and promptly stopped his Blessing and whupped both of them with Mama re-uprighting the table and getting all that food back together.

After everything was taken care of they sat back down at the table and Mama said to Papa, "Will you continue Papa?"

There was a long pause, unusually long pause, and finally Papa raised his head and said, "I can't think of a damn thing to say."

That's another ham in the smokehouse.

In Britain Beautiful Butterflies Go Commercial

LONDON -- It's the latest craze for the keen gardener in Britain -- buy some butterflies and brighten your backyard.

The old belief that butterflies made their own decisions on where to spend their brief lives is being challenged by a firm of breeders called World Wide Butterflies.

The company expects to sell about 15,000 butterflies this year through a seed marketing firm called Thompson and Morgan.

The Thompson and Morgan brochure says you can order a few butterflies -- they come as chrysalises in a plastic box -- along with your seed order. To do the job properly, you should also buy a structure called the habitat sun cage at a cost of about $20.

The butterflies hatch in the cage and -- according to the brochure -- find it so attractive that they seldom stray far across the garden fence.

As an additional attraction, the firm also provides the buyer with a packet of nettle seeds. To a butterfly nettle is very tasty.

The butterflies cost up to $1.25 apiece. Some live only two to four weeks at best, although other might survive as long as 10 months.

A somewhat more cautious view of the butterflies hatching instinct is taken by Robert Goodden, a director of the breeding firm.

He said that once released from the sun cage, butterflies were quite liable to desert their owner for another, more attractive garden.

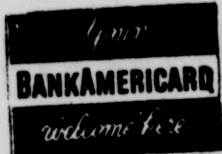

Mr. Goodden recommended a restructuring of the butterfly owners garden, rooting out roses which butterflies don't like and substituting them with nettles and hedgerow flowers. Few butterflies can resist a hedgerow flower.

Thompson and Morgan say they have plenty of seeds in stock which butterflies like just as much as nettles.

In fact, said one member of the firm, if you can't afford the butterflies -- minimum order is 10 -- then you might just buy the flower seeds and lure away somebody else's butterflies.

Sales, say Thompson and Morgan, are brisk, one stately home has ordered 400 butterflies.

LL Make-up Games Scheduled Friday

Little League make-up games will be played Friday night at the new Little League Park.

Officials said playoff games will be set back because of importance of finishing schedule for impending district playoffs.

INSTRUCTORS -- Craig Gold smiles across to Robert Trogola while Janice DuBolt, one of Mary Hardin-Baylor's women's tennis players looks on. Center is Helen Huffman, junior high tennis coach and summer tennis instructor, Trogola and Diane Pyle, one of the Temple women's doubles champions, who has also assisted with tennis instruction at Yoe Courts. Gold, Trogola and DuBolt are continuing instruction for about 30 players, from 10 through adult age twice-weekly through the summer.

Tennis Champs Continue Classes At Yoe Courts

About 30 students are continuing to take lessons at Yoe Courts from newly crowned Waco Open doubles champions Craig Gold and Robert Trogola, who also was men's singles finalist in the 850-entry Waco open.

Assisting is Janice DuBolt, a member of the Mary Hardin-Baylor Women's tennis team, which was undefeated this spring. Trogola and Gold are two of the top three singles players for the Belton college which went undefeated in 1973 and compiled a 16-2-1 season including matches with some Southwest Conference schools this spring.

Both are from Johannesburg, South Africa, and will return as juniors to play for Mary Hardin-Baylor this fall.

Trogola won men's singles in the 2,500-entry Texas Sectionals in 1973 at Corpus Christi. The No. 1 girl's player, Hambridge, also of South Africa, was finalist in the women's singles of the 1974 Texas Sectionals in San Antonio. She also won the women's singles in the Waco Open last Sunday. And she teamed with a player from Corpus Christi to win the mixed doubles title in Waco.

MH-B coach Lewis Hilley, himself coach of an NCAA championship tennis team in the mid-50s and discoverer of South Africa's WCT pro Cliff Drysdale, rates the Gold-Trogola doubles team one of the best in Texas men's open doubles competition.

Tennis boosters in Cameron have brought this kind of talent to Yoe Courts to continue several years work for a Cameron school and community tennis program, Mrs. Helen Huffman, Cameron school tennis and summer instructor, points out.

"Everyone involved with the lessons agrees they are benefitting from the half-hour sessions," Mrs. Huffman says. "So the instructors -- Gold and Trogola -- would like to extend the program until school opens." Cost is $1.50 a half hour, which is about one-fourth of what the calibre of instruction usually costs.

Classes will start at 2 p.m. instead of 4 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays, continuing to 7 to 7:30 p.m. Instructors work with tennis students in pairs. Mrs. Huffman invites additional interested students to call 697-2476 for scheduling individual classes.

The Cameron Women's Tennis Association conducted a clinic for students through June, ending with a local student tournament.

Fresh, Salt Water?

Fisheries biologists are showing increased interest in developing techniques for the rearing of saltwater fish in fresh water, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

Native game fish, including speckled trout, redbelly, and flounder, have demonstrated their ability to survive and grow in fresh water.

These species have actually survived and thrived when they were experimentally stocked in reservoirs in West Texas and in state fish hatcheries. In some cases, they actually grew faster than their relatives in the seas.

These fish could offer new species for sport fishermen and new weapons in the war against the forage and rough fish which overpopulate Texas' lakes.

But, there are as yet a few unsolved problems, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The biggest obstacle, they say, is the complete lack of state or federal marine fish hatcheries. Saltwater species require special handling which freshwater hatcheries cannot provide.

And although there has been a tremendous increase in the research on marine fish propagation in the past few years, few techniques for mass production have been established, especially involving the Gulf Coast fishes.

Parks and Wildlife Department officials are making some headway in solving these problems at their Olmito Fish Hatchery near Brownsville.

CHAMPIONS ON COURT -- Craig Gold, left, and Robert Trogola are teaching Monday and Tuesdays, beginning at 2 p.m. July 15, at Yoe courts, Cameron. The doubles team won the men's doubles Sunday in the massive Waco Open while Trogola was men's singles finalist, losing to a nationally ranked Houston player, Ed Austin, 1-6, 6-2, 6-3. Trogola played five matches that day including the winning doubles finale with Gold. They will be juniors at Mary Hardin-Baylor College where they have played two seasons with the MH-B men's tennis team, undefeated in 1973 and had a 16-2-1 season in 1974. Both players are from Johannesburg, South Africa. Trogola is ranked about No. 2 or No. 3 in Texas in singles and the Gold-Trogola is rated by coach Lewis Hilley one of the best in Texas college-university and men's open competition. -- Mike Peck Photos

AT EASE -- Gold, Trogola and Janice DuBolt are at the sidelines between instruction sessions. Here Helen Huffman chats with Miss DuBolt about the summer classes. The Mary Hardin-Baylor girls tennis team went undefeated in 1974. The No. 1 singles player won the women's singles championship Sunday in the Waco Open, which attracted more than 800 players from Texas, Mexico and eight other states.

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES
ARE BACK!

If you enjoy fresh produce, you will love the next few weeks. This is the time of year when vegetables such as squash, tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and corn are available. Fruits and melons, such as cherries, peaches, plums, grapes, cantaloupes, watermelons and honeydew melons, are reaching their peak. Although there is a lot of produce marketed from other parts of the country, we get much of our fresh summer produce from local growers to offer you a wide variety at lower costs.

You should choose fruits and vegetables that are clean, have good representative color and shape, and are free from defects. Avoid withered produce and produce which shows evidence of insect injury. Keep an eye out for over-ripeness, too. For example, summer squash should be young and tender enough to eat the entire squash without peeling. Cucumbers should be firm and not too large in diameter. Avoid those which have withered or shriveled ends because they may be tough and bitter.

Corn should be plump and milky. Avoid kernels that are very small or very large or indented. Tomatoes and peppers should be firm. Avoid over-ripe tomatoes and thin-skinned peppers.

One of the most popular varieties of sweet cherries is the Bing cherry. It is a rich dark "mahogany" color, is larger than most sour cherries, and has a round, plump shape. It is primarily eaten raw or in fresh salads, but it is also good to freeze or can for future use. Prime quality fruit should be handled carefully. It should be firm, well matured and richly colored. Bing cherries should be juicy and have a fine, sweet taste. Try my recipe for a delicious Bing Cherry Dessert.
